To Jim Garrison from Harold Weisberg 3/17/68

Helen Gladstone

On my two previous trip and this one, often when inquiring for leads on Will Cuthbert Brady and Kerry Thornley, I was advised to seek out Helen Gladstone, of the Jewish Civic Press. That I did not is because there were more things to do than I could and all the indications are that she would not be anxious to cooperate.

I think it is probably that every single person I asked about Brady mentioned her name as close to him. The guest book of the Ryder Club, on which I have another memo, has his name and hers adjacent.

Among their common interests was a theater group Barbara and others can identify.
